

Russ Want Triumvirate; Neutrals Voice Dismay

by United Press International

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Sept. 26—United Nations delegates returned to their general debate today seriously concerned with Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev's move to replace Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld with a three man secretariat.

Neutralist nations generally lined up with the West in voicing dismay over the move, not only because of their respect for Hammarskjöld but under Khrushchev's plan the Communists could cripple effective U. N. action almost at will.

Pinegar Draws Council Names From Shoe Box

Brigham Young University Studentbody President Max Pinegar drew ten names out of an old shoe box to select the temporary Freshman Council Friday evening in the Smith Fieldhouse.

Leo Linning, Karen Misch, Peggy Thomander, Bob Hughes and Stephanie Wayment's names came out first among scattered cheer, surprised gasps and whistles from the audience.

FOLLOWING were the names of Warner Woodworth, Ronald Riggs, Arjay Miller, Julie Ann Wright and Cap Cresap.

The Council will direct the activities of the freshman class until regular class officers are elected the last of October. Some of these activities are selling class cards during registration, planning, and supervising the building of a Homecoming Float and presenting a studentbody dance.

THE DRAWING was a new precedent in the method of choosing the Council. Heretofore, the elections committee has narrowed the field down to 15 candidates and a vote was taken during the talent program.

Richard Boyce, elections committee head, pointed out that the new method was more fair than asking the students to vote for one of the people which he saw standing on the stage.

BEFORE THE drawing, the elections committee had screened all candidates through applications and interviews to select 60 names to place in the box.

The new method also helps to eliminate the distinction of being "chosen" to be on the council when council members participated in the class elections, Boyce added.

THE SOVIET leader's proposal appeared to be the opening gambit in a long campaign against Hammarskjöld for refusing to inject the U. N. force in the Congo's internal affairs and support Soviet-favored Patrice Lumumba.

The Soviet delegation had not yet tried to inscribe the proposal on the agenda. In view of the support for Hammarskjöld a formal vote would go overwhelmingly against the Russians.

THERE WAS NO chance it could get the two-thirds vote of the General Assembly and approval of the Security Council—where the West has four veto votes—required to change the U. N. charter.

Khrushchev could expect solid support for his proposals from two Communists speaking today. President Antonin Novotny of Czechoslovakia and President Mehmet Shehu of Albania, and probably similar endorsement from Premier Fidel Castro of Cuba this afternoon.

OTHER SPEAKERS on the list today, Canadian Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, Argentine External Relations Minister Diogenes Taboada and Thai Foreign Minister Thanat Khoman were expected to supply rebuttals.

A full cast of the world leaders in New York for this General Assembly session was expected to be on hand for the Castro speech.

THE BEARDED revolutionary's government announced in Havana over the weekend that it had recognized Communist China and North Korea and there was little doubt he would hew pretty closely to the Khrushchev line.

Cuban sources said Castro had planned to speak as long as four hours—he has done seven-hour stints on television in Cuba—but that he was being advised to trim his speech down to about two hours.

SLIMY SOUL—Poor slimy frosh. He brought half the Botany Pond up with him. You can't say he wasn't warned. Everyone told him to buy a freshman beanie. ## Beloved Y 'Patriarch' Leaves Campus Scene

A familiar face to many of the faculty and older students at Brigham Young University will be missed this year.

Robert Brown Wilkinson, father of President Ernest L. Wilkinson, died Sept. 18 in a Salt Lake hospital of causes incident to age. Mr. Wilkinson lagged just one month of being 95 years of age.

HE WAS born in Salton, East Lothian, Scotland, on October 17, 1865. He came to Utah from Scotland in 1875 at the age of 10 with his father, a convert to the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints and two brothers, Andrew and Alexander.

After arriving in Utah, the male members of the Wilkinson family set to work to earn enough money to bring their mother and three sisters from Scotland to Utah.

Because of the necessities of rugged pioneer life, he continued to work and finished only the third grade. He then took a job with John Browning, famed gun inventor, as a farm hand. He traveled to Bluff, San Juan County, when about 15 and worked at Bluff and Mancos and Durango, Colo., for two years.

WILKINSON earned a horse and saddle by doing farm work and traveled to Oregon to work for the Oregon Short Line Railroad at Shoshone, Idaho. From there he went to Promontory Point as an employee of the Southern Pacific.

At Promontory Point, he met and married Cecilia Andersen of Bear River City. During the next 25 years, he worked for the Southern Pacific as a fireman and locomotive engineer.

He attained the position of high priest in the Church.

ABOUT 21 years ago, the Wilkinsons moved to Redondo Beach, California. Mrs. Wilkinson died in 1945.

Mr. Wilkinson continued to work until he was past 80 years of age. Since that time he has made his home in Washington, D. C., and Provo with his son, Dr. Ernest L. Wilkinson. He became a familiar figure to most campus personnel during the time he resided in the president's home.

HE IS survived by four sons and a daughter, Dr. Wilkinson, Provo; Robert A. Wilkinson, Massapequa, Long Island, N. Y.; Mrs. Elva Wilkinson Bell, and Glen A. Wilkinson, both of Washington, D. C.; and Woodrow A. Wilkinson, Salt Lake City. He is also survived by 13 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

'Be a Y-Hier' To Be Theme This Week

Mystery Persons To Count 'Hello's'

Brigham Young University is well-known for the spirit of friendliness which pervades the campus. Never is this spirit typified with such enthusiasm as during the traditional Hello Week on campus.

HELLO WEEK theme, "Be a Y Hi-er," will help students from all over the United States and the world meet new friends and become more a part of BYU. You don't need a formal introduction to anyone before you can exchange a cheery "Hello" with him.

As an incentive to induce frosh and returnees to "Be a Y Hi-er" there will be a boy and a girl walking the campus who will be keeping count of the number of people who say "Hi" to them.

EACH TIME a total of 750 is reached that person's name will be taken and a valuable prize will be awarded at the assembly which will be held Thursday evening.

The mystery persons will keep a count of the total number of "Hi's" which they receive and this will be recorded on a thermometer which will be set up near the Eyring Science Center.

MAT DANCES held on the tennis courts south of the Smith Fieldhouse will be the place to be Monday and Tuesday along about 3 p.m. School clothes will be appropriate.

"Ben and Her" is the theme of the 8 p.m. assembly on Thursday in the fieldhouse. A three-act musical comedy is on the docket.

Evening dances will be held both Friday and Saturday. High-lighting Friday's festivities will be the lighting of the block Y on Y Mountain. Intercollegiate Knights will trek up the mountain to light it and then form a torch parade down the mountain.

Students Build Courage For Busy Sign-up Days

Students with last names beginning La to Zw will register tomorrow in alphabetical order beginning at 8 a.m. at the fieldhouse.

STUDENTS who attended spring or summer quarter will be admitted by their activity card to register. New students will be required to show their admission form.

PRESIDENT'S WELCOME

Dear Students:

Welcome to Brigham Young University!

It is with genuine pleasure that I greet you because there is every indication that this will become one of the outstanding student bodies of BYU history.

Already it is quite obvious that we shall have a record freshman class. We know also that this class brings a high standard because our scholarship applicants this year were outstanding. Likewise, our upperclassmen have participated in our program of academic excellence for several years and are meeting the great challenge of our day.

You will find much that is new at BYU this year and we hope that these changes will result in great benefit to you. Let me mention only a few of the changes: The Jesse Knight Building is completed and in operation, and two new buildings are progressing rapidly; a new road system and campus beautification are under way; we have added 73 new faculty members; the semester system begins this year to eliminate much of the scheduling machinery and build a more solid curriculum; the Honors Program has started on a full scale; the new Skills Improvement Program is in operation for those who need special helps.

Likewise we feel that our established programs are the finest—the housing, food, health and other services; assemblies, devotionals, forums, and lyceums; social and religious activities; and a completely revised curriculum in all eleven colleges. All of this is for your benefit if you will take advantage of it.

We can be proud of our campus, our faculty, the student body and the program. Let's all work together for an enjoyable and profitable year.

Sincerely,

Ernest L. Wilkinson
President

Kia Ora Club meeting tonight, 5:45 in the Wymount Chapel for members and interested new students. Alpha Phi Omega will have its first opening meeting at 7 p.m. for all members in Thane Packer's office in the fieldhouse.

There will be a meeting for all those interested at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday in the Banyan office.

Try Out for Cougarettes

Tryouts for Cougarettes, freshman marching corps, will be held Monday, 6:30 to 10 p.m. in the Joseph Smith Ballroom. All peppy frosh girls and new sophomore girls are eligible to try out. Capris or Bermudas can be worn for the tryouts.

Genealogy Needs Prompt New Council

To meet the increasing need for competent genealogists, Brigham Young University General College will institute a special two-year course in Genealogical Technology beginning fall semester, President Ernest L. Wilkinson announced.

THE NEW program will provide college courses in genealogical research supplemented by a wide offering of regular academic courses. The curriculum is open to all college students who desire to prepare themselves for useful employment as genealogical technicians and specialists or to assist themselves and their families in research.

The course is set up on standards similar to other technical institute programs now operating in the Technical and Semi-Professional Institute of the General College. Instruction in the regular courses: English, religion, health, physical education, etc., as well as church administration, foreign language and history, preparation of teaching materials, typing and electives is included.

GENEALOGY classes will be taught by BYU specialists and instructors from the Genealogical Society in Salt Lake City. The final courses consist of basic practice in research procedures under the direct supervision of the library staff.

In order to accommodate as many students as possible, many of the courses required in the program will be offered in the Adult Education Centers in Provo, Salt Lake City, and Ogden.

STUDENTS enrolling in the program should choose their line of specialization early. If they wish to follow a line other than English, students should take the corresponding course in the specific language of the people.

Skyline Scores Indicate Close Race

by Marilyn Curtis
Universe Sports Writer

Two Skyline encounters headed the gridiron schedule this weekend.

Defending champions, the Wyoming Cowboys, picked up a second conference win as they downed New Mexico, 13-3.

THE NEW MEXICO defense held the Pokes at bay until the fourth period when halfback Bud Snyder broke loose from the five yard line to score. Joe Dempsey, quarterback, kicked for the extra point.

Minutes later, after a 45 yard drive, Dick Behning took the ball over again, this time from the 8 yard line.

The Lobo score came in the third period on a 44 yard field goal kicked by end Ed Beach.

IN OTHER conference play, Utah State drew a close one with Montana, finally edging the Grizzlies, 14-12.

Tom Larscheid, Aggie halfback, scored both touchdowns on end sweeps, one in the second period and one in the third.

The place-kicking of Lamont

Miller made the real difference in the final score as he put two kicks between the posts.

FULLBACK Johnny Johnson scored three times to push San Jose over Brigham Young, 21-8.

The Cougars were almost motionless during the first half and only broke loose to score once in the third quarter. Jack Gifford made the touchdown and Bud Belnap ran the ball for the two-point conversion.

Colorado State fell to the Air Force, 32-8 as Rich Mayo, Falcon quarterback, tossed three touchdown passes in the fourth period.

UTAH PLAYED a sloppy game against Arizona, but still found a victory over the weakened Wildcats, 13-3.

Arizona used a Utah fumble to line quarterback Eddie Wilson up for the field goal that gave them their only score.

Utah found its way over the goal line during the first and third periods.

DENVER edged Washington State, 28-26 under the lights Friday to surprise football fans all over the west. Cougar play was sparked by the passing of Mel Melin, but the game was lost on fumbles.

Next week finds two more conference tilts scheduled. Brigham Young will meet Colorado State in the first conference game for both teams. Utah State plays Denver in Logan to round out the Skyline slate for the weekend.

MONTANA plays Idaho at home and Utah plays at home against Oregon. New Mexico takes on Texas Western and Wyoming is pitted against Arizona.

The outcome of the first two weeks' contests indicates the Skyline race may be much closer than was predicted by most of the pigskin experts before the season began. Montana, New Mexico, and Colorado State have appeared surprisingly strong while the performances of Wyoming, Utah and Utah State have not been as strong as expected.

San Jose State Smashes BYU, 21-8

by Jack Batchler
Universe Sports Writer

San Jose State's strong air game proved to be too much for Coach Tally Stevens' traveling eleven Friday night as the Spartans rolled up an impressive 21-8 victory.

COACH BOB Titchenal's crew showed all-around power as they outclassed the Cats in all departments with fullback Johnny Johnson taking the ball into the end zone three times on short bursts of three, four and three yards. The Spartans kicked points after touchdowns three times and all were good.

BYU's never-say-die squad came through with a tremendous drive in the third quarter to score their only tally for the evening on a Belpap engineered drive which saw speedy Jack Gifford make the score. The spark to this drive was fanned by sophomore guard Mike Brady who recovered a San Jose fumble at the mid-field stripe.

IN THE FIRST half of the ball game, San Jose was all power, pulling a total of 267 yards to 25 for the Cats and they also pushed across two of their three sevenpointers in the initial half. Both of these scores came at the end of long marches which saw San Jose hit the Cougar line for 70 yards both times.

Offensively for the California squad it seemed as though Johnson was doing all the work, and he did score all three of their TD's, going over for the third one with about three and a half minutes left in the final period. Johnson was given some great assistance from the Spartan line which out-weighted the Brighams by at least ten pounds per man.

MIKE JONES and Chan Gallegos sparked the air-attack on the Cougar defense and picked holes in it at will. With these two accurate passers moving the ball through the air any time they needed room, San Jose held a comfortable lead of 14-0 at the half.

A rash of penalties marred the game in the fourth quarter and also saw BYU's stellar fullback, Dick Darling ejected from the game for a personal foul. It was a comedy of errors with the script running like this: San Jose, clipping, 15 yards; BYU, piling on, 15 yards; San Jose, offside, 5 yards; BYU, clipping, halfway to goal line from the 17. Even in the penalty column BYU were behind their opponents.

APART FROM the one sustained drive in the third period the Cats could hardly get the ball off the ground. Quarterback Bud Belpap seemed disinclined to go to the air and had to call on Ron Jacobson to kick the Cougars out of many a difficult spot.

Before Darling was ejected from the game, he played what is to be considered as the most consistent offensive effort of any of the Tabbies, picking up at least two Spartan fumbles and many of the Cougars' few yards. Jack Gifford also came up with some very good offensive play and was largely responsible for the lone Provo marker. Belpap and Bill Wright also looked good for the Cougars.

DEFENSIVELY, although the Spartans were able to move almost anywhere that they wanted to, the Cougars put up a good fight and did hold the score to a respectable one. End Merlin Smith, fullback Dick Darling, end Gene Frantz and tackle Wes Vorwaller made many of the stops which kept the agile Spartan attack at bay as long as possible.

All in all, the game story is told by one thing: ball control. While statistics show that San Jose led BYU in almost every department, this is the one which really told the tale. In the fourth period the Provoans had the ball only three times and were unable to capitalize either time. On each of these three occasions the Cougars were unable to get any more than five yards before the fourth down situation came up and Jacobson had to kick.

Pirates, Yanks Nab Pennants

by United Press International
It's official . . . the Yankees and the Pirates will play in the 1960 world series.

New York won its 10th pennant in 12 years under Casey Stengel by beating Boston 4-3 while second-place Chicago suffered a 4-0 loss to Cleveland.

In the National League, Pittsburgh was able to back into the pennant when Chicago beat second-place St. Louis 5-0, mathematically eliminating the Cardinals from pennant contention. Milwaukee beat Pittsburgh 4-2 when Eddie Mathews of the Braves hit a home run in the 10th inning.

In other major league action, Baltimore beat Washington, 3-1 and Detroit downed Kansas City, 6-5 in the American League. Philadelphia trounced Cincinnati, 7-1 while San Francisco topped Los Angeles, 13-9.

For the Yankees, championships and world series appearances are the rule rather than the exception. Only twice in the past 12 years have the Yanks failed to appear in the annual fall classic. This is the 25th pennant won by New York. They have won the world series 18 times.

The Pirates are comparative strangers to the October series. Not since 1927 has Pittsburgh won the title. That time they also played against New York in the series. The Yankees won in four straight games. Since then Pittsburgh had gone 33 years without a pennant, the longest wait in baseball.

It took almost 15 minutes after Sunday's game with Milwaukee before the Pittsburgh Pirates began to act like a team that had just won a pennant.

The three straight losses to Milwaukee took some of the edge off the locker room celebration. Third baseman Don Hoak said the Pirates played "lousy" in the Milwaukee series. He said, "I'm not unhappy about anything," but he wasn't smiling. General manager Joe Brown admitted there had been a letdown.
